LEADERSHIP BOB & THE SALTY DOG SERIES

To the valued members of my Salty Dog Pack,

I've just completed my 74th leadership reflections journal and I have so much that I'd like to share with you as sharing is the most important loop.

In an effort to start having more fun in learning how journaling with deliberate reflection can help you unlock ever greater potential in your life, I've created a newsletter with two characters named Leadership Bob and his long term partner named Salty Dog.

Leadership Bob

I'll share leadership and life lessons from the collection of 74 journals completed in the past 20 years and provide some context of why I think it's so important.

Salty Dog

My alter ego partner named Salty Dog will provide a brief and succinct summary of what the key leadership point it is for you to consider when implementing to get higher impact results.
